ieneral Solicitude in Minnesota Concerning the Wheat Crop-Better

News from Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky.

Minnesota. ST. PAUL, July 15.- The solicitude is becoming general regarding the condition of the wheat crop in this State. The continued rains, with wind and sultry weather between, create fears of damage, both from lodging and rust. Special dispatches to the Pioneer Press from thirty points in the State confirm these fears as to some localities where the grain is lodged and rust begins to appear, but their general tenor is more hopeful than the opinion of the people here. Some counties north, and others down the river, represent the crops as in a splendid condition. The unfavorable reports come from the south, near the Iowa line. Dispatches from the northern counties of Iowa are uniformly gloomy, representing the plant as badly damaged by lodging, blight and rust. Harvest in this State will begin in one or two weeks.
